1. Cough

Etiology & Pathology

Acute: Wind-Cold or Wind-Heat invasion obstructs Lung Qi.

Chronic: Lung Qi or Yin deficiency, Phlegm-Damp accumulation.

Rebellious Lung Qi fails to descend, causing cough.

LU7 (Lieque) – Releases exterior, descends Lung Qi.

LU5 (Chize) – Clears Lung Heat, transforms phlegm.

BL13 (Feishu) – Back-Shu Lung, tonifies and clears.

Ren22 (Tiantu) – Descends rebellious Lung Qi.

Dingchuan EX-B1 – Stops cough/wheezing.

ST40 (Fenglong) – Resolves phlegm.

Ren17 (Shanzhong) – Opens chest, regulates Qi.

LI4 (Hegu) – Expels Wind, releases exterior.

KI27 (Shufu) – Opens chest, benefits Lung Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) – Nourishes Yin for deficiency-type cough.

Tung Points

33.13 Renshi – Chronic cough, asthma.

44.28 Dingke – Stops cough reflex.

2. Asthma

Etiology & Pathology

Lung Qi deficiency, Kidney failing to grasp Qi, or Phlegm-Heat in Lungs.

Rebellious Lung Qi rises instead of descending.

Dingchuan EX-B1 – Wheezing, acute asthma.

BL13 (Feishu) – Tonifies Lung Qi.

LU7 (Lieque) – Diffuses Lung Qi.

ST36 (Zusanli) – Boosts Qi.

Ren17 (Shanzhong) – Opens chest.

BL23 (Shenshu) – Tonifies Kidney.

ST40 (Fenglong) – Resolves phlegm.

Ren6 (Qihai) – Tonifies Qi.

PC6 (Neiguan) – Calms chest.

33.13 Renshi – Chronic asthma.

Three Horses – Acute asthma, pneumonia.

3. Sore Throat

Wind-Heat invasion, Lung Heat, or Yin deficiency with Empty Heat.

Heat rises to throat, causing redness and swelling.

LI4 (Hegu) – Expels Wind, clears Heat.

LU11 (Shaoshang) – Ying-Well point, clears Heat from throat.

LI11 (Quchi) – Drains Heat.

Ren23 (Lianquan) – Local throat point.

SI17 (Tianrong) – Benefits throat.

ST44 (Neiting) – Clears Yangming Heat.

GB20 (Fengchi) – Expels Wind-Heat.

BL13 (Feishu) – Clears Lung Heat.

KI6 (Zhaohai) – Nourishes Yin for chronic sore throat.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) – Nourishes Yin.

Tung Points

11.17 Upper Throat – For acute sore throat (Tung).

33.13 Renshi – If cough accompanies sore throat.

4. Facial Swelling

Wind-Heat or Wind-Water attacking Yangming channels,

Dampness obstructing face circulation.

LI4 (Hegu) – Moves face Qi.

ST44 (Neiting) – Clears Yangming Heat.

LI11 (Quchi) – Clears Heat.

Ren24 (Chengjiang) – Local swelling.

ST36 (Zusanli) – Tonifies Qi, resolves Damp.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) – Drains Damp.

SJ5 (Waiguan) – Expels Wind.

GB20 (Fengchi) – Clears Wind-Heat.

BL13 (Feishu) – Releases Lung Qi.

BL20 (Pishu) – Strengthens Spleen for Damp resolution.

Tung Points

77.08 Upper White – For facial swelling due to Damp/Heat.

5. Running Nose (Rhinitis)

Etiology & Pathology

Wind-Cold or Wind-Heat blocking nasal orifices.

Sometimes Spleen Qi deficiency failing to transform fluids.

LI20 (Yingxiang) – Local, opens nose.

Yintang (EX-HN3) – Calms, opens nasal passages.

LI4 (Hegu) – Releases exterior.

LU7 (Lieque) – Releases Wind, opens Lung.

ST36 (Zusanli) – Tonifies Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) – Strengthens Spleen.

BL13 (Feishu) – Tonifies Lung Qi.

BL20 (Pishu) – Tonifies Spleen Qi.

GB20 (Fengchi) – Expels Wind.

Bitong (EX-HN8) – Opens nasal passages.

Tung Points

33.13–33.15 Three Scholars – Nasal allergies, rhinitis.

22.01 Double Son + 22.02 Double Immortal – Sinus/nasal obstruction.

2. Asthma

Etiology:

Invasion of external pathogens (Wind-Cold, Wind-Heat) lodging in Lungs.

Phlegm-Damp accumulation obstructing Lung Qi.

Lung Qi or Kidney Qi deficiency failing to grasp Qi.

Pathology:

Lung Qi fails to descend; phlegm obstructs the airways; Kidney fails to receive Qi.

Acupuncture Points & Functions:

LU7 – Releases exterior, promotes Lung descending function.

LU5 – Clears Lung Heat, resolves phlegm.

ST40 – Resolves phlegm-damp obstruction.

Ding Chuan (Extra) – Stops wheezing, opens the chest.

BL13 – Tonifies Lung, regulates Lung Qi.

BL23 – Tonifies Kidney, helps grasp Qi.

KI3 – Tonifies Kidney Qi and Yin.

REN17 – Opens chest, regulates Qi.

REN22 – Clears phlegm from throat.

PC6 – Opens chest, calms spirit.

77.22 Ling Gu + 77.23 Da Bai – Powerful for respiratory obstruction.

1010.27 Zhong Bai – Clears phlegm.

Etiology:

Wind-Heat invasion.

Lung or Stomach Heat.

Yin deficiency with empty Heat.

Pathology:

Heat injures Lung and throat collaterals.

Acupuncture Points:

LU11 – Clears Lung Heat, benefits throat.

LI4 – Expels Wind, clears Heat.

LI11 – Clears Heat from Qi level.

ST44 – Clears Stomach Heat.

KD6 – Nourishes Yin, moistens throat.

LU10 – Clears Lung Heat.

REN23 – Benefits throat.

SI17 – Local point for throat swelling/pain.

BL13 – Tonifies Lung, clears Heat.

DU14 – Clears Heat, expels pathogens.

Tung Points:

22.05 Ling Gu – Clears upper body Heat.

4. Facial Swelling

Etiology:

Wind-Water invasion.

Damp-Heat in Yangming.

Qi stagnation or Kidney Yang deficiency.

Pathology:

Fluid metabolism disruption leading to facial edema.

LI4 – Expels Wind, clears Heat.

ST36 – Tonifies Qi, promotes fluid transformation.

SP9 – Resolves Damp.

LI6 – Luo point, opens water passages.

REN9 – Promotes urination, reduces edema.

BL13 – Tonifies Lung, disperses fluids.
BL20 – Tonifies Spleen for fluid metabolism.
DU26 – Acute facial swelling relief.
ST44 – Clears Heat.
KD7 – Strengthens Kidney Yang to move fluids.

Tung:

88.25 Shui Shui – Strong for edema.

5. Running Nose

Etiology:

Wind-Cold or Wind-Heat.

Spleen Qi deficiency.

Lung Qi deficiency.

Pathology:

Lung or defensive Qi impairment.

LI4 – Expels Wind.

LI20 – Opens nasal passages.

Yintang – Opens nose, calms spirit.

LU7 – Releases exterior, benefits nose.

GB20 – Expels Wind from head.

ST36 – Tonifies Qi.

BL13 – Tonifies Lung Qi.

DU23 – Benefits nose.

SP6 – Tonifies Spleen.

ST3 – Opens nasal passage.

Tung:

77.01–77.04 Four Horses – Very effective for nasal issues.

6. Eye Pain

Etiology:

Wind-Heat invasion.

Liver Fire.

Kidney or Liver Yin deficiency.

Pathology:

Heat or Yin deficiency affecting eyes.

BL1 – Benefits eyes.

GB20 – Clears Wind-Heat.

LI4 – Clears Heat.

LV2 – Clears Liver Fire.

ST1 – Local eye pain relief.

BL2 – Relieves eye pain/swelling.

Taiyang – Local pain relief.

KI6 – Nourishes Yin.

SP6 – Tonifies Yin.

BL18 – Tonifies Liver.

Tung:

55.01 Mu Hu Die – Eye pain, inflammation.

7 — RED EYES

Etiology & pathology (TCM): usually Liver-Heat / Liver-Fire (often stress/alcohol/sleep), Wind-Heat invasion, or chronic Liver/Kidney Yin deficiency with empty heat. Heat rises to the eyes producing redness, burning, tearing, sometimes blurred vision.

Treatment principle: clear Liver heat or transform empty heat; expel Wind-Heat if acute; nourish Yin/Blood if chronic.

Points (12; brief function)

BL1 (Jingming) — local; brightens and clears eye redness.

ST1 (Chengqi) — local; drains heat and reduces swelling.

GB20 (Fengchi) — expels Wind, clears head/eye heat.

LI4 (Hegu) — moves Qi and disperses exterior pathogens / heat.

LV2 (Xingjian) — drains Liver-Fire (strong heat-clearing).

LV3 (Taichong) — soothes Liver Qi and reduces ascending Yang/Fire.

LI11 (Quchi) — clears systemic Heat.

GB37 (Guangming) — distal point benefiting vision.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothes Liver, reduces Fire.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Yin/Blood for chronic dry/red eyes.

KI6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Kidney Yin (chronic dryness/heat).

DU20 (Baihui) — calms rising Liver Yang; lifts clear Yang.

Taiyang (Extra) — local relief for temporal/eye pain.

SI6 (Yanglao) — ancient point for chronic eye disorders.

Tonify/sedate notes: Sedate LV2 when Liver-Fire; tonify SP/KI (ST36, KD3) when chronic deficiency present.

For acute Wind-Heat add GB20 + LI4 + LI11.

Tung additions (use as adjuncts): T 33.13 (Renshi) for chronic eye complaints; local Tung eyebrow/temple reaction points taught in Tung curricula for stubborn cases.

8 — PARALYSIS (Hemiplegia / Post-stroke motor loss)

Etiology & pathology: Wind-stroke (external/internal Wind) causing channel obstruction by Wind, Phlegm, Blood-stasis; chronic cases include Qi & Blood deficiency with blocked meridians. Motor nerve / channel qi blocked → flaccid or spastic paralysis.

Treatment principle: open channels, move Qi & Blood, resolve phlegm/stasis, tonify Qi & Blood, retrain motor function.

GV20 (Baihui) — raises clear Yang; central brain support.

DU26 (Renzhong) — acute restoration of function / consciousness (use cautiously).

LI4 (Hegu) — moves Qi in upper limb; analgesic.

LI11 (Quchi) — moves Qi/Blood along upper limb channels.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — openings for upper limb channels / extensor tone.

PC6 (Neiguan) — opens chest, calms Shen; useful if chest oppression accompanies.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonifies Qi/Blood and general constitution.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin for tissue recovery.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — benefits tendons and motor control of leg.

BL40 (Weizhong) — command point for lumbar/leg; releases obstruction.

ST38 (Tiaokou) — distal leg motor facilitation (used in many protocols).

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney root for chronic weakness.

KD3 (Taixi) — nourish root (Kidney) in long-term deficiency.

Local Ashi / motor points along affected meridian — essential: needle along channel distribution for limb.

Clinical notes: combine distal + local + motor-zone needling; electroacupuncture between local motor point and distal point (e.g., GB34 → ST36) is commonly used for re-education. For spasticity, consider additional sedation and slow tonification.

Tung additions: Four Horses / thigh Dao-Ma points (Tung sets such as 88.*) are commonly used for lower-limb motor recovery and can be powerful adjuncts when combined with local channel therapy.

9 — POOR CIRCULATION (Cold limbs, mottling, Raynaud-type signs)

Etiology & pathology: Qi & Blood deficiency (Spleen/Heart), Yang deficiency (Kidney/Spleen), or Blood stasis / Cold obstructing peripheral flow. Cold constriction reduces perfusion; long-standing Qi/Blood vacuity prevents nourishment.

Treatment principle: warm & tonify Yang, tonify Qi & Blood, move Blood/stasis, open channels.

ST36 (Zusanli) — major tonic for Qi & Blood; improves peripheral flow.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourishes Blood, supports Spleen.

BL17 (Geshu) — influential point of Blood; invigorates and moves Blood.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify original Qi; warms lower burner.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen to make Blood.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Yang to support peripheral warmth.

KD7 (Fuliu) — regulates water metabolism; supports Yang.

DU4 (Mingmen) — tonifies Kidney Yang.

PC6 (Neiguan) — improves thoracic circulation (when chest involvement).

SP10 (Xuehai) — moves and cools/activates Blood (for stasis).

LI4 (Hegu) — distal mover of Qi in limbs.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — improves lower limb tendon & vascular function.

BL40 (Weizhong) — local for leg circulation.

Local moxa on limb points (e.g., ST36, REN6, SP6) — warms channels for cold patterns.

Clinical notes: If signs of Blood stasis (fixed pain, purple discoloration) add SP10, BL17 and consider cupping or bleeding techniques appropriate to training. For cold deficiency, moxibustion is particularly useful.

Tung additions: Tung leg/thigh points (e.g., Ling Gu + Da Bai patterns) are frequently used to strongly mobilize lower limb Qi/Blood in circulatory insufficiency.

10 — INSOMNIA

Etiology & pathology: may be Heart-Blood / Heart-Spleen deficiency (poor Shen nourishment), Liver-Qi stagnation transforming to Fire, Heart-Kidney disharmony, or Phlegm-Heat disturbing Shen.

Manifestations: difficulty falling asleep, frequent waking, vivid dreams, palpitations, anxiety.

Treatment principle: nourish Heart/Blood or Yin, calm Shen, soothe Liver, resolve phlegm/heat.

HT7 (Shenmen) — primary point to anchor Shen; calms mind.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourishes Yin/Blood; calms spirit.

KD3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin; balance Heart-Kidney.

Anmian (Extra) — classic sleep induction point.

PC6 (Neiguan) — calms chest and anxiety; anti-nausea.

GV20 (Baihui) — lifts/diffuses, calms mind when used gently.

BL15 (Xinshu) — tonify Heart Blood and Shen.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen when deficiency affects sleep.

ST36 (Zusanli) — general tonic to build constitution.

Yintang (M-HN-3) — calms mind and quiets rumination.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Yin for chronic insomnia.

HT6 (Yinxi) — for night sweating / Yin deficiency.

LR3 (Taichong) — move constrained Liver Qi that disturbs sleep.

SI3 (Houxi) / BL62 (Shenmai) — open Du/Yang Qiao when sleep onset problems due to restless legs or yin/yang imbalance.

GB20 (Fengchi) — relax neck/upper chest tension contributing to wakefulness.

Clinical notes: For Heart-Blood deficiency → emphasize HT7 + ST36 + BL20; for Liver-Fire insomnia → sedate

LV2, add GB20 and calming points. Anmian + HT7 is a frequently effective working pair; integrate gentle stimulation. Evidence supports acupuncture's autonomic-modulating effects in insomnia.

11 — DEPRESSION (Major low mood / chronic low energy in TCM terms)

Etiology & pathology: Liver-Qi stagnation commonly underlies depression; over time this may damage Spleen & Heart producing Qi & Blood deficiency, or transform to Damp/Phlegm or Fire. Symptoms include low mood, anergia, rumination, digestive upset.

Treatment principle: move Liver Qi, tonify Spleen & Heart, calm Shen, resolve phlegm if present.

LV3 (Taichong) — moves Liver Qi; primary for stagnation.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — moves Liver channel, soothes tendons and emotions.

PC6 (Neiguan) — opens chest, relieves oppression/anxiety.

HT7 (Shenmen) — calms & anchors Shen.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and support digestion/Spleen.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin to calm mood.

GV20 (Baihui) — lift spirit, regulate mind.

REN17 (Shanzhong) — open chest, relieve emotional constriction.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothe Liver and regulate emotion.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen for thought and motivation.

Yintang — quiet rumination and intrusive thoughts.

SI3 (Houxi) — open Du when mental stagnation is present.

KD3 (Taixi) — in chronic depletion, root the pattern.

ST25 / ST36 combo — when digestive symptoms are prominent (food stagnation contributing to mood).

Clinical notes: For predominant stagnation → emphasize LV3 + PC6 + GB34. If phlegm-misting present (fog, poor concentration), add ST40. Tung calming head/thigh points can be effective for refractory depression.

12 — PANIC ATTACK (Acute panic / sudden anxiety)

Etiology & pathology: sudden disturbance of Heart Shen often with Heart-Kidney disharmony or acute Liver-Qi uprising. Symptoms: soaring anxiety, palpitations, breathlessness, trembling.

Treatment principle: calm Shen, anchor the Heart, descend rebellious Qi, restore Heart-Kidney communication.

PC6 (Neiguan) — first-line for acute chest tightness and panic.

HT7 (Shenmen) — anchors Shen and calms palpitations.

REN17 (Shanzhong) — opens chest and relieves dyspnea.

KD3 (Taixi) — root the Kidney to restore Heart-Kidney balance.

GV20 (Baihui) — calm but lifting for clouded mind.

Yintang — immediate calming and grounding.

DU24 (Shenting) — reduces panic and restlessness.

LU9 (Taiyuan) — support Lung when breathlessness present.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonic and grounding after a panic episode.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — calm Shen and regulate Yin.

PC4 (Ximen) — for acute, severe palpitations (xi-cleft).

BL15 (Xinshu) — strengthen Heart Blood/Shen.

LI4 (Hegu) — move stuck Qi that can heighten panic.

Clinical notes: For acute panic use gentle needling and calming technique (PC6 + HT7 + Yintang). If recurrent, address chronic Heart-Kidney or Spleen/Heart deficiency patterns over successive treatments. Tung calming points make good adjuncts in refractory cases.

13 — HEADACHE (All common patterns: Wind, Liver-Yang, Qi/Blood deficiency, phlegm)

Etiology & pathology: headache may be external Wind, Liver-Yang rising, Qi/Blood deficiency, phlegm/damp obstruction, or Blood stasis. Location pinpoints channels (frontal = Yangming; temporal = Shaoyang; occipital = Taiyang).

Treatment principle: expel pathogenic factor (wind/heat/cold), move Qi/Blood, subdue Liver Yang, resolve phlegm.

LI4 (Hegu) — distal analgesic for head/face.

GB20 (Fengchi) — expel Wind from head / occiput.

Taiyang (Extra) — local temporal pain relief.

GB8 (Shuaigu) — strong for migraine and temporal pain.

ST8 (Touwei) — frontal/vertex pain (Yangming involvement).

LV3 (Taichong) — subdue Liver Yang and move Qi.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — lateral head pain (Shaoyang).

BL2 (Zanzhu) — local frontal/eye region.

DU20 (Baihui) — lift clear Yang for vertex headaches.

SI3 (Houxi) — open Du for occipital pain.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons / Shaoyang influence.

ST36 (Zusanli) — support Qi/Blood in deficiency headaches.

ST40 (Fenglong) — transform phlegm causing heavy/foggy headaches.

LI11 (Quchi) — clear heat causing painful disorders.

BL10 (Tianzhu) — local neck/occipital tension.

Clinical notes: acute external wind headache → GB20 + LI4 + SJ5; migraine with nausea → add PC6. For chronic cases build constitution with ST36 + SP6. Tung temporal/vertex points are valuable for severe refractory headaches.

14 — VERTIGO / DIZZINESS

Etiology & pathology: Phlegm-damp misting the head, Liver-Yang rising, Qi/Blood deficiency, or Kidney deficiency (chronic). Symptoms: spinning, unsteadiness, nausea.

Treatment principle: transform phlegm, subdue Liver Yang, tonify Qi/Blood/Kidney, open sensory orifices.

GB20 (Fengchi) — open head, expel Wind.

DU20 (Baihui) — raise clear Yang to head.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi; transform phlegm via SP support.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — strengthen Spleen to resolve damp.

ST40 (Fenglong) — principal phlegm-transforming point.

LV3 (Taichong) — subdue Liver Yang.

KD3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney in chronic cases.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — lateral head and ear-related vertigo.

BL23 (Shenshu) — support Kidney for chronic dizziness.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi during acute episodes.

Yintang — calm mind and reduce vertiginous anxiety.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons and support lower limb circulation in balance issues.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen and fluid metabolism.

Clinical notes: For phlegm-damp predominance emphasize ST40 + SP6 + ST36; for Liver-Yang emphasize LV3 + GB20 and sedation. Tung proximal leg/thigh points for vestibular complaints can be very helpful as adjuncts.

15 — CHEST PAIN (Non-emergent/discrete TCM patterns)

Etiology & pathology: Qi stagnation in chest, phlegm obstruction, Heart Blood stasis, or Heart Qi deficiency. NOTE: sudden severe chest pain with cardiac features requires emergency referral.

Treatment principle: open chest, move Qi & Blood, resolve phlegm, nourish Heart/Shen if chronic.

PC6 (Neiguan) — opens chest, descends rebellious Qi; palpitations.

REN17 (Shanzhong) — front-mu of Pericardium; opens chest.

LU1 (Zhongfu) — for chest congestion with Lung involvement.

HT7 (Shenmen) — calm Shen in chest distress.

BL15 (Xinshu) — tonify Heart and regulate Shen.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonic support for deficiency patterns.

SP4 (Gongsun) — opening Chong, harmonize middle if epigastric involvement.

BL17 (Geshu) — move Blood in stasis patterns.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve pain.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Qi and support circulation.

KD25 (Shenfeng) — local anterior chest point calming Heart.

LU7 (Lieque) — releases exterior in respiratory-related chest pain.

PC4 (Ximen) — xi-cleft for acute severe chest pain.

GB20 (Fengchi) — if head/neck tension contributes to chest compression.

Tung additions: specific chest/opening Tung points (thigh/upper body sets) are used in advanced Tung protocols alongside PC6/REN17 to release stubborn chest constriction.

16 — HEART PAIN / PALPITATIONS

Etiology & pathology: Heart Blood deficiency, Heart Qi vacuity, Phlegm-Heat disturbing the Heart, or Blood stasis. Manifests as palpitations, chest discomfort, anxiety, poor sleep.

Treatment principle: calm Shen, nourish Heart Blood/Yin, open chest, move Blood if stasis present.

HT7 (Shenmen) — anchor Shen; nourish Heart Blood.

PC6 (Neiguan) — regulate Heart and chest; anti-palpitation.

REN14 (Juque) — front-mu of Heart; calms Heart.

BL15 (Xinshu) — back-shu of Heart; tonify Heart.

ST36 (Zusanli) — general Qi support.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood.

KD3 (Taixi) — root Kidney to coordinate with Heart.

PC4 (Ximen) — xi-cleft for acute palpitations/angina-like pain.

BL17 (Geshu) — move Blood if stasis.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve acute discomfort.

Yintang / DU24 — calm anxious mind.

LU9 (Taiyuan) — nourish Lung if breathlessness present.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Yuan Qi and circulation.

BL20 (Pishu) — support Spleen when palpitations linked to digestion/fatigue.

Clinical notes: palpitations with syncope or severe chest pain = emergency care. For chronic palpitations combine constitutional tonification (ST36, REN6) with local calming points (HT7, PC6). Tung heart-balancing points can be used for long-standing arrhythmic complaints in experienced hands.

17 — POOR MEMORY / CONCENTRATION

Etiology & pathology: Heart-Spleen deficiency (poor mental focus), Kidney Jing depletion (age-related memory loss), or Phlegm misting the mind (clouded thinking).

Treatment principle: nourish Heart/Blood, tonify Spleen & Kidney, clear phlegm, support brain function.

GV20 (Baihui) — raise clear Yang, improve mental clarity.

Sishencong (Extra) — cognitive enhancement, memory focus.

BL15 (Xinshu) — nourish Heart/Blood and Shen.

BL20 (Pishu) — support Spleen for thinking.

ST36 (Zusanli) — overall tonic for Qi/Blood.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood & Yin.

KD3 (Taixi) — root Jing for long-term memory.

SI6 (Yanglao) — benefit eye/brain connection in elders.

HT7 (Shenmen) — calm Shen for better focus.

DU24 / Yintang — calm the mind and improve concentration.

GB20 (Fengchi) — improve head circulation.

ST40 (Fenglong) — transform phlegm if brain fog present.

PC6 (Neiguan) — stabilize autonomic overactivity that can impair cognition.

Clinical notes: combine constitutional tonification over many treatments; scalp acupuncture lines and Tung brain points are useful in post-stroke memory deficits.

18 — NAUSEA (including motion, pregnancy, vestibular)

Etiology & pathology: Rebellious Stomach Qi (failure to descend), phlegm, Liver invading Stomach, or dampness.

Treatment principle: descend rebellious Qi, harmonize Stomach, resolve phlegm.

PC6 (Neiguan) — primary anti-emetic; harmonizes Stomach.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthens Stomach, descends Qi.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — front-mu of Stomach; harmonize center.

ST25 (Tianshu) — regulate intestines/middle jiao.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — harmonize Spleen and calm.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve associated pain.

ST44 (Neiting) — clears excessive stomach heat when present.

ST40 (Fenglong) — resolves phlegm causing nausea.

BL21 (Weishu) — back-shu of Stomach for persistent dysfunction.

LU7 (Lieque) — when Lung involvement/upper throat numbness present (e.g., post-viral nausea).

Yintang / Anmian — calm vestibular anxiety associated with nausea.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax diaphragm/shaoyang contributions when belching/reflux present.

Clinical notes: PC6 is the single most reliable point across many causes (pregnancy, post-op, motion). Use gentle stimulation for pregnancy. Tung abdominal/chest points may be added for stubborn cases.

19 — VOMITING

Etiology & pathology: severe reversal of Stomach Qi due to food stagnation, damp-heat, phlegm obstruction, or Liver invading Stomach.

Treatment principle: descend rebellious Qi, harmonize ST, clear heat/resolve phlegm or food stagnation as indicated.

PC6 (Neiguan) — stop vomiting; harmonize the middle.

ST36 (Zusanli) — descends stomach Qi and strengthens center.

SP4 (Gongsun) — paired with PC6 for penetrating vessel regulation.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize stomach and descend Qi.

REN10 (Xiawan) — local for food stagnation.

ST25 (Tianshu) — intestinal regulation for bowel-related vomiting.

ST44 (Neiting) — clear stomach heat causing vomiting.

ST40 (Fenglong) — transform phlegm causing retching.

BL21 (Weishu) — back-shu of Stomach for chronic vomit.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve pain/nausea.

Yintang — calm vestibular symptoms.

CV13 (Shangwan) — upper epigastric descending aid.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen in chronic cases.

Clinical notes: manage fluid/electrolytes in severe vomiting; use PC6 immediately for symptomatic relief. Tung epigastric points can be adjuncts for persistent vomiting.

20 — ACID REFLUX / GERD (Heartburn)

Etiology & pathology: Stomach Qi rebellion with possible Stomach Heat, food stagnation, Spleen deficiency, or Liver attacking Stomach. Chronic reflux may damage Yin and produce empty heat symptoms.

Treatment principle: descend rebellious Qi, harmonize & strengthen Stomach/Spleen, clear Heat or move Liver as indicated.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — front-mu of Stomach; harmonize center and reduce reflux.

PC6 (Neiguan) — reduces reflux and nausea, descends Qi.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Spleen & Stomach motility.

SP4 (Gongsun) — harmonize middle; paired with PC6.

ST44 (Neiting) — clear stomach/food heat (if heartburn acidic).

REN13 (Shangwan) — local epigastric descending.

BL21 (Weishu) — back-shu of Stomach for chronic regulation.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen when digestion is poor.

LV3 (Taichong) — for Liver invading Stomach (stress-related reflux).

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Qi & promote lower burner function.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — harmonize fluids and Yin support.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax diaphragm / shaoyang influence for belching/reflux.

ST25 (Tianshu) — normalize intestinal motility if associated bowel symptoms.

Yintang / DU20 (gentle) — calm stress component of reflux.

Clinical notes: combine acupuncture with diet and lifestyle changes (avoid late meals, alcohol, heavy fats). For predominant heat patterns emphasize ST44 + LI11; for deficiency patterns emphasize ST36 + REN12 + moxa on REN6. Tung anti-reflux point combos are used by experienced Tung practitioners as adjuncts.

21 — INDIGESTION (Dyspepsia, bloating, fullness)

Etiology & Pathology: Usually caused by Spleen/Stomach Qi deficiency, Food stagnation, or Liver Qi invading the Stomach causing poor digestion, bloating, fullness, belching, and sometimes acid reflux.

Treatment Principle: Strengthen Spleen & Stomach, move stagnant Qi and food, harmonize Liver & Stomach.

Points (14; brief functions):

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Stomach and Spleen, improve digestion.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — front-mu of Stomach, harmonize middle jiao.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Spleen and harmonize digestion.

PC6 (Neiguan) — regulate stomach Qi, relieve nausea.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi stagnation invading Stomach.

SP4 (Gongsun) — paired with PC6 for penetrating vessel regulation.

ST25 (Tianshu) — regulate intestines and digestion.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen Qi.

BL21 (Weishu) — tonify Stomach Qi.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi stagnation, relieve pain.

ST40 (Fenglong) — transform phlegm/damp causing fullness.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify original Qi to support digestion.

REN10 (Xiawan) — local point for food stagnation.

Yintang (Extra) — calm Shen, reduce stress-related digestive issues.

Tung additions: Use Tung abdominal reaction points for digestion on lower abdomen and thigh regions to regulate middle jiao Qi flow and relieve stagnation.

22 — DIARRHOEA

Etiology & Pathology: Commonly due to Spleen Qi deficiency, Damp-Heat in the Intestines, or Cold invasion causing frequent loose stools with variable characteristics.

Treatment Principle: Strengthen Spleen, eliminate Dampness, clear Heat if present, warm Yang if cold.

Points (14; brief functions):

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Spleen and Stomach, regulate intestines.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — resolve Dampness.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen Qi to stop diarrhea.

BL25 (Dachangshu) — back-shu of Large Intestine, regulate bowel.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize middle jiao.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — strengthen Spleen and nourish Blood.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi if Liver attacking Spleen.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi, relieve intestinal cramping.

REN6 (Qihai) — strengthen Yuan Qi and digestive function.

ST25 (Tianshu) — regulate intestines directly.

KD3 (Taixi) — tonify Kidney Yang in chronic deficiency.

GV4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang to warm lower burner.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Qi/Yang.

LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat if diarrhea is hot/damp.

Tung additions: Lower abdominal and thigh Tung points to tonify Spleen and regulate intestines are used successfully in chronic diarrhea cases.

23 — CONSTIPATION

Etiology & Pathology: Caused by Heat accumulation drying fluids, Qi stagnation blocking bowel movement, or Qi and Blood deficiency leading to dry stools.

Treatment Principle: Moisten intestines, move Qi, clear Heat or tonify Qi & Blood depending on pattern.

Points (14; brief functions):

ST25 (Tianshu) — regulate intestines, promote bowel movement.

BL25 (Dachangshu) — back-shu of Large Intestine, stimulate bowel.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve stagnation.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen digestion and Qi.

SP15 (Daheng) — abdominal point for constipation.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Yin and moisten intestines.

SJ6 (Zhigou) — moves Qi in the Yangwei meridian; opens bowels.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify original Qi.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen for better Qi production.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Yang to assist fluid metabolism.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi stagnation causing blockage.

GV20 (Baihui) — raise clear Yang, move Qi upward and downward.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Yin and Blood.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize Stomach.

Tung additions: Use Tung points on leg and lower abdomen to stimulate bowel function and smooth Qi flow.

24 — EPIGASTRIC PAIN

Etiology & Pathology: Often due to Stomach Qi stagnation, Food retention, or Liver Qi invading Stomach causing localized pain and discomfort.

Treatment Principle: Move Qi, harmonize Stomach, relieve pain, clear food retention.

Points (14; brief functions):

REN12 (Zhongwan) — front-mu of Stomach; harmonize middle.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Stomach Qi.

PC6 (Neiguan) — open chest and descend rebellious Qi.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi invading Stomach.

SP4 (Gongsun) — penetrate vessel point to harmonize middle.

ST40 (Fenglong) — resolve phlegm and food stagnation.

LI4 (Hegu) — relieve pain and move Qi.

BL21 (Weishu) — back-shu of Stomach, support function.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen.

REN10 (Xiawan) — local for food retention.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Spleen and calm.

ST25 (Tianshu) — regulate intestines.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons and muscles, help pain relief.

Yintang — calm mind and reduce pain perception.

Tung additions: Use Tung abdomen points to resolve stagnation and abdominal pain.

25 — DIGESTIVE WEAKNESS (Chronic poor digestion, low appetite)

Etiology & Pathology: Usually due to Spleen Qi deficiency with poor transformation and transportation function leading to fatigue, loose stools, poor appetite.

Treatment Principle: Tonify Spleen and Stomach Qi, harmonize digestion, strengthen appetite.

Points (14; brief functions):

ST36 (Zusanli) — main tonic for digestion and Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Spleen and Blood.

BL20 (Pishu) — back-shu of Spleen.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize middle jiao.

BL21 (Weishu) — back-shu of Stomach.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify original Qi.

LV13 (Zhangmen) — influential point of Zang organs, harmonize Spleen and Liver.

PC6 (Neiguan) — regulate middle and relieve nausea.

ST25 (Tianshu) — regulate intestines.

SP3 (Taibai) — strengthen Spleen.

KD3 (Taixi) — tonify Kidney for chronic fatigue.

LU9 (Taiyuan) — tonify Lung Qi for whole body energy.

GV20 (Baihui) — lift clear Yang and raise spirit.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve stagnation.

Tung additions: Use Tung leg and abdomen points to strengthen digestion and Qi flow.

26 — FREQUENT URINATION

Etiology & Pathology: May be caused by Kidney Qi deficiency, Spleen Qi deficiency with dampness, or Bladder Heat causing irritation.

Treatment Principle: Tonify Kidney Qi, strengthen Spleen, clear Heat from Bladder if present.

Points (14; brief functions):

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Qi.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — tonify Kidney and Yuan Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — strengthen Spleen and Kidneys.

BL28 (Pangguangshu) — back-shu of Bladder.

KI3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin and Yang.

REN3 (Zhongji) — front-mu of Bladder; clear heat.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — resolve dampness.

LU7 (Lieque) — open Ren Mai, regulate urination.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen.

KI6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Kidney Yin.

DU4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi, relieve obstruction.

BL39 (Weiyang) — lower He-Sea of Sanjiao; regulate urination.

Tung additions: Use Tung back and sacral points affecting Bladder and Kidney function.

27 — KIDNEY EXHAUSTION (Chronic fatigue, soreness, weakness)

Etiology & Pathology: Long-term Kidney Qi or Yang deficiency from overwork, chronic illness, or aging; manifesting as weakness, back soreness, fatigue, poor concentration.

Treatment Principle: Tonify Kidney Qi and Yang, nourish Jing, strengthen constitution.

Points (15; brief functions):

BL23 (Shenshu) — main Kidney tonification point.

DU4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang.

KI3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin and Yang.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — nourish Kidney Qi and essence.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify general Qi and Yang.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Yin and Blood.

BL52 (Zhishi) — Kidney Shu point to tonify essence.

KI7 (Fuliu) — tonify Kidney Yang and regulate fluids.

GV20 (Baihui) — raise clear Yang and spirit.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi to assist systemic circulation.

BL40 (Weizhong) — relax lower back and invigorate channels.

GB39 (Xuanzhong) — marrow sea point, nourish Jing.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Kidney Yin for balance.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Yuan Qi and Kidney function.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothe Liver to support Kidney.

Tung additions: Use Tung back points around sacrum and lumbar for Kidney essence strengthening.

28 — SEXUAL EXHAUSTION (Impotence, low libido, fatigue)

Etiology & Pathology: Typically Kidney Yang deficiency with decline of Jing and Qi affecting reproductive function; sometimes Blood deficiency or Heart Shen disturbance.

Treatment Principle: Tonify Kidney Yang and Jing, nourish Blood, calm Shen.

Points (15; brief functions):

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Yang.

DU4 (Mingmen) — strengthen Kidney Yang.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — nourish Kidney essence and Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

HT7 (Shenmen) — calm Shen.

PC6 (Neiguan) — regulate Heart and calm anxiety.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and blood.

BL52 (Zhishi) — Kidney essence tonification.

KD7 (Fuliu) — strengthen Kidney Yang and fluids.

GV20 (Baihui) — raise clear Yang and spirit.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and improve circulation.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Yuan Qi and Kidney function.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothe Liver Qi and improve sexual function.

Tung additions: Use Tung sacral and lumbar points to boost Kidney Qi and Jing energy.

29 — HERNIA

Etiology & Pathology: Result of Spleen Qi deficiency failing to hold organs, often compounded by Liver Qi stagnation causing abdominal pain and swelling.

Treatment Principle: Strengthen Spleen Qi to contain organs, move Liver Qi, relieve pain.

Points (14; brief functions):

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Qi and hold abdominal contents.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Spleen and Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi stagnation.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen Qi.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Qi for lower abdominal support.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — tonify Qi and essence.

ST29 (Guilai) — moves Qi and Blood in lower abdomen.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — move Liver Qi and tendons.

SP3 (Taibai) — tonify Spleen.

BL32 (Ciliao) — sacral point regulating lower burner.

KI13 (Qixue) — tonify Chong and Ren vessels.

DU1 (Changqiang) — regulates lower burner Qi.

Tung additions: Use Tung lower abdomen and sacral points to support Qi containment and reduce hernia symptoms.

30 — KIDNEY DEFICIENCY SYNDROMES (General low back pain, fatigue, weakness)

Etiology & Pathology: Long-term Kidney Qi or Yang deficiency manifesting as weakness, soreness of back/knees, tinnitus, dizziness, frequent urination.

Treatment Principle: Tonify Kidney Qi and Yang, nourish Jing, strengthen lumbar region.

Points (15; brief functions):

BL23 (Shenshu) — primary Kidney tonification point.

DU4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang.

KI3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin and Yang.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — tonify Yuan Qi and essence.

BL52 (Zhishi) — strengthen Kidney essence.

BL40 (Weizhong) — relieve lumbar pain.

GV20 (Baihui) — lift clear Yang and spirit.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and blood.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Yin and Blood.

KD7 (Fuliu) — tonify Kidney Yang.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothe Liver Qi, supporting Kidney.

GV3 (Yaoyangguan) — strengthen lumbar region.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve pain.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Kidney Yin.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify original Qi.

Tung additions: Use Tung lumbar and sacral points to strengthen Kidney Qi and alleviate back weakness.

31 — IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION

Etiology & Pathology:

Common causes include Liver Qi stagnation, Spleen Qi deficiency, Kidney deficiency, and Blood deficiency. May present with irregular cycles, scanty or heavy bleeding, or amenorrhea.

Treatment Principle: Regulate Liver Qi, tonify Spleen and Kidney, nourish Blood, and harmonize Chong and Ren vessels.

Points (14):

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — regulate menstruation, nourish Blood.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — nourish Kidneys and Chong Mai.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi stagnation.

BL18 (Ganshu) — Liver Shu, smooth Liver Qi.

BL23 (Shenshu) — Kidney Shu, tonify Kidney Qi.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Yuan Qi and Chong Mai.

LI4 (Hegu) — regulate Qi flow.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Spleen and Qi.

SP10 (Xuehai) — invigorate and nourish Blood.

REN3 (Zhongji) — front-mu of Bladder, regulates Lower Burner.

BL32 (Ciliao) — sacral point, regulates uterus.

KD14 (Siman) — moves Qi and Blood in lower abdomen.

PC6 (Neiguan) — harmonize Qi and calm Shen.

Tung additions: Use Tung points on sacral area and lower abdomen to regulate Chong and Ren vessels and harmonize menstruation.

32 — PMS (Premenstrual Syndrome)

Etiology & Pathology:

Primarily Liver Qi stagnation causing emotional symptoms, breast distension, irritability; sometimes Blood deficiency or Phlegm accumulation.

Treatment Principle: Soothe Liver Qi, nourish Blood, transform Phlegm if needed, calm Shen.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi stagnation.

PC6 (Neiguan) — calm Shen and regulate Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Qi and harmonize Chong Mai.

HT7 (Shenmen) — calm Shen.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Qi and Blood.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothe Liver Qi.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — nourish Kidney and Blood.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve pain.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons and soothe Liver.

SP10 (Xuehai) — invigorate Blood and remove stasis.

Yintang (Extra) — calm mind and reduce anxiety.

Tung additions: Use Tung sacral and lower abdomen points to regulate Liver Qi and calm Shen.

33 — LEUCORRHOEA (Vaginal Discharge)

Etiology & Pathology:

Usually due to Spleen Qi deficiency causing dampness, or Damp-Heat in the Lower Burner, sometimes Kidney deficiency.

Treatment Principle: Strengthen Spleen, resolve Dampness, clear Heat if present, tonify Kidneys.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — resolve Dampness, nourish Spleen.

REN3 (Zhongji) — front-mu of Bladder, clears damp-heat.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — resolve Dampness.

BL32 (Ciliao) — regulate uterus and lower burner.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Qi.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Spleen Qi.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi.

REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Yuan Qi.

BL20 (Pishu) — tonify Spleen.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve stagnation.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — smooth Liver Qi.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Kidney Yin.

SP3 (Taibai) — strengthen Spleen.

PC6 (Neiguan) — calm Shen and regulate Qi.

Tung additions: Tung points on lower abdomen and sacrum regulate uterine Qi and clear Dampness.

34 — NECK STIFFNESS

Etiology & Pathology:

Often due to Wind-Cold or Wind-Damp invasion causing obstruction and pain in the neck muscles and channels.

Treatment Principle: Dispel Wind-Cold/Dampness, relax muscles, move Qi and Blood.

Points (12):

GB20 (Fengchi) — expel Wind, relax neck muscles.

SI3 (Houxi) — treat neck stiffness and pain.

BL10 (Tianzhu) — relax neck muscles.

LU7 (Lieque) — expel Wind-Cold.

GB21 (Jianjing) — relax shoulder and neck.

BL60 (Kunlun) — relieve pain and stiffness.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi, relieve pain.

Jianqian (Extra) — local shoulder and neck pain.

SI15 (Jianzhongshu) — local point for neck and upper back.

GV14 (Dazhui) — expel Wind and clear Heat.

GB39 (Xuanzhong) — strengthen tendons and bones.

BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai, relax neck.

Tung additions: Use Tung points around scapula and neck region to relax muscles and unblock Qi flow.

35 — SHOULDER PAIN

Etiology & Pathology:

Usually caused by Wind-Cold or Dampness obstructing channels around shoulder, or trauma causing Qi and Blood stagnation.

Treatment Principle: Dispel Wind-Damp, move Qi and Blood, relieve pain.

Points (12):

LI15 (Jianyu) — main local point for shoulder pain.

SJ14 (Jianliao) — local point, relieve pain.

SI9 (Jianzhen) — shoulder pain and mobility.

GB21 (Jianjing) — relax shoulder muscles.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and Blood.

BL60 (Kunlun) — relieve pain.

Ash points on shoulder — local tenderness points.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — open Yang Wei Mai, relieve pain.

SI3 (Houxi) — open Du Mai, neck and shoulder.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — move Liver Qi, relax tendons.

ST38 (Tiaokou) — distal point for shoulder pain.

BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai.

Tung additions: Use Tung scapular points and shoulder area points for pain relief and Qi regulation.

36 — ARM PAIN

Etiology & Pathology:

Due to Qi and Blood stagnation, Wind-Cold-Damp invasion, or channel obstruction.

Treatment Principle: Move Qi and Blood, dispel pathogenic factors, relieve pain.

Points (12):

LI11 (Quchi) — clear heat and pain in arm.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and Blood.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — expel Wind and relieve arm pain.

LU5 (Chize) — clear Lung Heat, pain relief.

PC6 (Neiguan) — regulate Qi and Blood.

SI8 (Xiaohai) — local point for arm pain.

LI10 (Shousanli) — tonify Qi, local arm point.

SJ10 (Tianjing) — relieve arm pain.

BL13 (Feishu) — strengthen Lung to help arm function.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons.

BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai, relax arm.

Ash points on arm — local tenderness points.

Tung additions: Use Tung arm line points for pain and Qi flow regulation.

37 — WRIST PAIN

Etiology & Pathology:

Usually Wind-Cold or Dampness invasion or trauma causing Qi-Blood stagnation in wrist channels.

Treatment Principle: Dispel Wind-Cold-Damp, move Qi and Blood, relieve pain.

Points (12):

LI5 (Yangxi) — local wrist point.

SJ4 (Yangchi) — local point.

SI5 (Yanggu) — local point, wrist pain relief.

LU9 (Taiyuan) — tonify Lung, local wrist pain.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and Blood.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — expel Wind.

PC6 (Neiguan) — regulate Qi and Blood.

Ash points on wrist — local tenderness.

BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

Tung additions: Use Tung wrist and forearm points to regulate Qi and alleviate pain.

38 — BACK PAIN

Etiology & Pathology:

Usually Kidney deficiency, Qi and Blood stagnation, or Wind-Cold-Damp invasion causing pain and stiffness.

Treatment Principle: Tonify Kidney and Qi, dispel pathogenic factors, move Qi and Blood, relieve pain.

BL23 (Shenshu) — Kidney tonification, lumbar pain.

DU4 (Mingmen) — strengthen Kidney Yang.

BL40 (Weizhong) — local lumbar pain relief.

BL25 (Dachangshu) — local lumbar point.

BL26 (Guanyuanshu) — lumbar area, strengthen.

GV3 (Yaoyangguan) — lumbar strengthening.

KI3 (Taixi) — Kidney tonification.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve pain.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons.

Ash points on lumbar area — local tenderness.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothe Liver Qi.

GV14 (Dazhui) — dispel Wind-Cold.

Tung additions: Use Tung sacral and lumbar points for Kidney tonification and pain relief.

39 — LUMBAR WEAKNESS

Etiology & Pathology:

Usually from Kidney Qi/Yang deficiency, causing weakness, soreness, fatigue in lower back.

Treatment Principle: Tonify Kidney Qi and Yang, strengthen lumbar muscles.

BL23 (Shenshu) — Kidney tonification.

DU4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang.

KI3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin and Yang.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — tonify Yuan Qi.

BL40 (Weizhong) — lumbar pain and weakness.

GV3 (Yaoyangguan) — strengthen lumbar muscles.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

BL52 (Zhishi) — Kidney essence tonification.

KI7 (Fuliu) — tonify Kidney Yang.

GV20 (Baihui) — raise Yang and spirit.

BL18 (Ganshu) — soothe Liver Qi.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Kidney Yin.

Tung additions: Tung points on sacral and lumbar areas for Kidney strengthening and lumbar support.

40 — KNEE PAIN

Etiology & Pathology:

Caused by Wind-Cold-Damp invasion, Kidney deficiency, or Qi and Blood stagnation around the knee joint.

Treatment Principle: Dispel pathogenic factors, tonify Kidney and Spleen, move Qi and Blood, relieve pain.

ST35 (Dubi) — local knee pain.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — resolve Dampness.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons, knee pain.

BL40 (Weizhong) — back of knee, pain relief.

KI10 (Yingu) — nourish Kidney Yin and Yang.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

GB39 (Xuanzhong) — marrow point, nourish Jing.

LV8 (Ququan) — nourish Blood and tendons.

BL23 (Shenshu) — Kidney tonification.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve pain.

Ash points on knee — local tenderness points.

BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — tonify Kidney Qi.

Tung additions: Use Tung points around knee and leg for pain relief and tendon nourishment.

41 — HIP JOINT PAIN

Etiology & Pathology:

Usually caused by Wind-Cold-Damp invasion blocking the channels around hip, or Kidney and Liver deficiency failing to nourish tendons and bones.

Treatment Principle: Dispel Wind-Cold-Damp, move Qi and Blood, tonify Kidney and Liver, relieve pain.

GB30 (Huantiao) — local hip pain point.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons, move Qi and Blood.

BL54 (Zhibian) — local hip point.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney.

BL40 (Weizhong) — relieve pain and relax muscles.

ST31 (Biguan) — local hip point.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi stagnation.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

KI3 (Taixi) — tonify Kidney Yin and Yang.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve pain.

BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai, relax hip muscles.

GV4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang.

Ash points on hip — local tenderness points.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

Tung additions: Use Tung points on hip and thigh to regulate Qi flow and relieve pain.

42 — SCIATICA

Etiology & Pathology:

Often due to Wind-Cold-Damp obstructing the sciatic channel or Kidney deficiency weakening lumbar and leg support causing pain radiating down leg.

Treatment Principle: Dispel Wind-Cold-Damp, tonify Kidney, move Qi and Blood, relieve pain along sciatic nerve.

BL40 (Weizhong) — main point for sciatica pain.

GB30 (Huantiao) — local sciatic pain point.

BL54 (Zhibian) — local hip and leg pain.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney.

GV4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons and muscles.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

Ash points on sciatic pathway — local tenderness.

BL37 (Yinmen) — sciatic nerve point.

BL60 (Kunlun) — relieve pain in leg.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve stagnation.

KD3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin and Yang.

GV3 (Yaoyangguan) — strengthen lumbar and legs.

Tung additions: Tung leg and sacral points regulate sciatic channel Qi flow and relieve pain.

43 — HIP STIFFNESS

Etiology & Pathology:

Usually caused by Wind-Cold-Damp invasion or Kidney and Liver deficiency leading to restricted movement and pain.

Treatment Principle: Dispel Wind-Cold-Damp, relax muscles, tonify Kidney and Liver, improve joint mobility.

Points (14):

GB30 (Huantiao) — local hip point.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons, improve mobility.

BL54 (Zhibian) — hip pain and stiffness.

BL23 (Shenshu) — Kidney tonification.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

KI3 (Taixi) — tonify Kidney.

BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

Ash points on hip — local tenderness.

GV4 (Mingmen) — tonify Kidney Yang.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — expel Wind-Damp.

BL40 (Weizhong) — relieve pain.

Tung additions: Use Tung points on hip and thigh for mobility and pain relief.

44 — FROZEN SHOULDER

Etiology & Pathology:

Often from Wind-Cold-Damp causing obstruction and fibrosis of shoulder joint capsule leading to stiffness and pain.

Treatment Principle: Dispel Wind-Cold-Damp, move Qi and Blood, relax tendons, relieve pain, restore mobility.

Points (14):

LI15 (Jianyu) — local shoulder pain and stiffness.

SJ14 (Jianliao) — shoulder mobility.

SI9 (Jianzhen) — shoulder pain.

GB21 (Jianjing) — relax shoulder muscles.
LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and Blood.
BL60 (Kunlun) — relieve pain.
SJ5 (Waiguan) — expel Wind-Damp.
SI3 (Houxi) — open Du Mai and relax shoulder.
ST38 (Tiaokou) — distal point for shoulder stiffness.
BL62 (Shenmai) — open Yang Qiao Mai.
Ash points on shoulder — local tenderness.
GV14 (Dazhui) — expel Wind.
GB34 (Yanglingquan) — relax tendons.
PC6 (Neiguan) — calm Shen and regulate Qi.
Tung additions: Tung scapular and shoulder line points for pain relief and mobility restoration.

45 — MALARIA

Etiology & Pathology:

Due to Wind-Heat toxin invading the body with intermittent chills and fever, sweating, and heaviness.

Treatment Principle: Clear Heat and toxins, expel Wind, regulate Ying and Wei Qi.

LI4 (Hegu) — expel Wind and release exterior.
LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat and toxins.
DU14 (Dazhui) — clear Heat and regulate Wei Qi.
PC5 (Jianshi) — regulate Qi and clear Heat.
GB41 (Zulinqi) — clear Heat.
SP10 (Xuehai) — cool Blood and remove stasis.
BL17 (Geshu) — influence point for Blood.
ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Qi and Wei.
REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize middle.
DU16 (Fengfu) — expel Wind and clear Heat.
SJ5 (Waiguan) — expel Wind-Heat.

Ash points for chills and fever.

Tung additions: Use Tung points on head and upper back to clear Wind-Heat and regulate defensive Qi.

46 — SUN STROKE (Heat stroke)

Etiology & Pathology:

Excessive Heat damages Qi and Yin, may cause collapse of Yang Qi with high fever, headache, dizziness, and fainting.

Treatment Principle: Clear Heat, restore Yang, calm Shen, rescue collapse if severe.

DU26 (Renzhong) — revive consciousness.
LI4 (Hegu) — release exterior and clear Heat.
DU14 (Dazhui) — clear Heat.
PC6 (Neiguan) — calm Shen and regulate Heart.
GV20 (Baihui) — raise clear Yang.
ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Yin.
SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Yin.
LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat.
SJ5 (Waiguan) — expel Wind-Heat.
REN6 (Qihai) — tonify Qi.
KD3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin.
BL40 (Weizhong) — relax muscles and clear Heat.
GV16 (Fengfu) — expel Wind and clear Heat.

Ash points on head and neck.

Tung additions: Use Tung scalp and head points to clear Heat and revive Yang.

47 — LOW IMMUNITY (Chronic fatigue, frequent infections)

Etiology & Pathology:

Due to Spleen Qi deficiency, Kidney Jing deficiency, and weak Defensive Qi causing susceptibility to infections.

Treatment Principle: Strengthen Spleen and Kidney Qi, boost Wei Qi, nourish Jing and Blood.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Wei Qi.
SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Yin and Blood.
BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen.
BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney.
REN6 (Qihai) — tonify original Qi.
LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and release exterior.
LU7 (Lieque) — open Ren Mai, boost immunity.
GV14 (Dazhui) — strengthen Wei Qi.
PC6 (Neiguan) — calm Shen and regulate Qi.

SP3 (Taibai) — strengthen Spleen.

BL13 (Feishu) — tonify Lung Wei Qi.

GV20 (Baihui) — raise clear Yang and spirit.

ST25 (Tianshu) — regulate intestines for absorption.

Tung additions: Use Tung back and leg points to strengthen Wei Qi and Kidney Jing.

48 — ECZEMA

Etiology & Pathology:

Caused by Wind-Heat, Damp-Heat, or Blood deficiency leading to skin inflammation, itching, and rash.

Treatment Principle: Clear Heat, eliminate Dampness, nourish Blood, stop itching.

LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat and toxins.

SP10 (Xuehai) — cool Blood.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

BL40 (Weizhong) — clear Heat from skin.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi.

LU7 (Lieque) — release Wind and regulate skin.

BL13 (Feishu) — tonify Lung and skin defenses.

LI4 (Hegu) — move Qi and relieve itching.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Qi and immunity.

GB31 (Fengshi) — remove Wind and itching.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — resolve Dampness.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize digestion.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Yin.

Ash points on affected skin.

Tung additions: Use Tung points on limbs and back to regulate Wei Qi and clear Wind-Heat.

49 — SKIN RASHES

Etiology & Pathology:

Often from Wind-Heat or Damp-Heat invading skin, or Blood Heat causing eruptions.

Treatment Principle: Clear Heat, cool Blood, dispel Wind, resolve Dampness.

LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat and toxins.

SP10 (Xuehai) — cool Blood and clear Heat.

LU7 (Lieque) — release Wind and open skin pores.

GB31 (Fengshi) — dispel Wind and relieve itching.

BL40 (Weizhong) — clear Heat.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

BL13 (Feishu) — tonify Lung and skin defenses.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Yin.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize digestion.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen.

Ash points on rash areas.

Tung additions: Tung limb points to clear Wind-Heat and regulate Wei Qi.

50 — ITCHING

Etiology & Pathology:

Caused by Wind, Dampness, or Heat invading the skin; sometimes Blood deficiency causing dryness and itch.

Treatment Principle: Expel Wind, clear Heat, resolve Dampness, nourish Blood, stop itching.

LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat.

GB31 (Fengshi) — expel Wind, stop itching.

SP10 (Xuehai) — cool Blood.

LU7 (Lieque) — release Wind and open pores.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood and Yin.

BL40 (Weizhong) — clear Heat.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Yin.

BL13 (Feishu) — tonify Lung and Wei Qi.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonize digestion.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen.

Ash points on itchy areas.

Tung additions: Use Tung limb and back points to expel Wind and regulate Wei Qi for itching relief.

TCM acupuncture drainage points specifically used to drain or expel each pathogenic factor: Wind, Heat, Summer Heat, Dampness, Cold, and Dryness — organized.

Drainage Points in TCM Acupuncture for Pathogenic Evils

1. WIND (Wind-Cold, Wind-Heat, Wind-Damp)

Drainage points:

GB20 (Fengchi) — expels Wind from the head and neck, releases exterior.

LI4 (Hegu) — moves Qi, expels Wind, opens the nose and face.

LU7 (Lieque) — releases exterior Wind, opens Ren Mai.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — expels Wind-Heat or Wind-Cold from the upper limbs and head.

BL12 (Fengmen) — Wind gate, expels Wind externally.

DU16 (Fengfu) — expels Wind and clears the head and neck.

SI3 (Houxi) — opens Du Mai, expels Wind, especially in the neck and upper back.

GB31 (Fengshi) — expels Wind from limbs, stops itching and pain caused by Wind.

BL62 (Shenmai) — opens Yang Qiao Mai, helps expel Wind from body and head.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonifies Qi to aid immune response, indirectly helping drainage.

2. HEAT (Wind-Heat, Interior Heat, Fire)

Drainage points:

LI11 (Quchi) — clears Heat and Fire from Qi level.

DU14 (Dazhui) — clears Heat, especially from Yang Ming and Qi levels.

LI4 (Hegu) — clears Wind-Heat, relieves fever.

PC3 (Qizhi) — clears Heat from Blood level.

SJ2 (Yemen) — clears Heat from the San Jiao channel.

BL40 (Weizhong) — clears Heat from Blood, skin, and muscles.

SP10 (Xuehai) — cools Blood and removes Heat from Blood.

LU10 (Yuji) — clears Lung Heat.

ST44 (Neiting) — clears Stomach Heat.

LV2 (Xingjian) — clears Liver Fire.

3. SUMMER HEAT

Drainage points:

LI11 (Quchi) — clears Summer Heat and general Heat symptoms.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — resolves Dampness, often accompanying Summer Heat.

REN12 (Zhongwan) — harmonizes middle burner, clears Summer Heat with Dampness.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthens Spleen to combat Dampness from Summer Heat.

BL22 (Sanjiaoshu) — promotes transformation and drainage of Damp-Heat.

PC3 (Qizhi) — clears Heat and relieves Summer Heat symptoms.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonifies Qi and strengthens body resistance.

GV14 (Dazhui) — clears Heat and releases exterior.

LU7 (Lieque) — releases exterior and clears Summer Heat symptoms.

LI4 (Hegu) — clears Heat and releases exterior.

4. DAMPNESS (Damp-Heat, Damp-Cold)

Drainage points:

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — primary Dampness draining point, resolves Damp from Lower Burner.

ST28 (Shuidao) — moves Water and Dampness in Lower Burner.

REN9 (Shuifen) — regulates water metabolism, clears Dampness.

BL22 (San Jiaoshu) — promotes transformation and excretion of Dampness.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — strengthens Spleen to transform Dampness.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonifies Spleen and aids Dampness drainage.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthens Spleen, which controls Damp.

LU7 (Lieque) — opens Ren Mai, helps disperse Dampness externally.

LI4 (Hegu) — moves Qi, helps resolve stagnation from Dampness.

GB34 (Yanglingquan) — moves Liver Qi, aids in Damp stagnation.

5. COLD (Wind-Cold, Interior Cold)

Drainage points:

GV14 (Dazhui) — expels Cold and Wind from exterior.

BL23 (Shenshu) — warms Kidney Yang, expels interior Cold.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — warms and tonifies Kidney Yang.

ST36 (Zusanli) — warms Yang, strengthens Spleen and Stomach.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourishes Blood and Yang.

LI4 (Hegu) — expels exterior Cold.

LU7 (Lieque) — releases exterior Cold and opens Ren Mai.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthens Spleen Yang to transform Cold-Damp.

BL60 (Kunlun) — expels Cold from Taiyang channels.

KD7 (Fuliu) — regulates water metabolism, supports Yang to expel Cold.

6. DRYNESS (Dry Heat, Dryness with Yin Deficiency)

Drainage points:

LU9 (Taiyuan) — tonifies Lung Yin, relieves dryness.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourishes Yin and Blood.

KD6 (Zhaozhai) — nourishes Kidney Yin, moistens dryness.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — nourishes Yin and Kidney essence.

BL13 (Feishu) — tonifies Lung Yin.

BL23 (Shenshu) — nourishes Kidney Yin and essence.

LI4 (Hegu) — moves Qi to assist Yin.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonifies Qi and Blood, supports fluids.

LU7 (Lieque) — opens Ren Mai and helps Lung fluids.

KD3 (Taixi) — nourishes Kidney Yin.

Detailed explanation and treatment principle on how to use the drainage points for each pathogenic factor (Wind, Heat, Summer Heat, Dampness, Cold, Dryness) in common clinical presentations, with practical guidance on combining points and rationale.

Detailed Explanation & Treatment Principles for Drainage Points in TCM

1. WIND

Clinical Presentation:

Sudden onset chills, fever, body aches, stiffness of neck, headaches, aversion to wind, sneezing, itching skin, rash, or migratory joint pain.

Exterior Wind invasion may be Wind-Cold or Wind-Heat type.

Treatment Principles:

Release the Exterior by expelling Wind.

Promote the free flow of Qi and Blood to remove obstruction.

Tonify the body's defensive Qi if the condition becomes chronic.

How to Use Drainage Points:

Use GB20 (Fengchi) and BL12 (Fengmen) to expel Wind at the neck and upper back.

LI4 (Hegu) combined with LU7 (Lieque) to open the Wei Qi, release the exterior, and expel Wind from the face and head.

If Wind-Heat is predominant, add SJ5 (Waiguan) and DU16 (Fengfu) to clear Heat with Wind.

For Wind-Cold, avoid strong dispersing points like LI11 which clear Heat.

Add SI3 (Houxi) to open Du Mai if neck and upper back stiffness are prominent.

GB31 (Fengshi) and BL62 (Shenmai) help expel Wind from limbs and open Yang Qiao Mai.

Use points in combination with mild tonification like ST36 (Zusanli) to support Wei Qi.

2. HEAT

Clinical Presentation:

Fever, thirst, irritability, red face, headache, sore throat, constipation, dark urine, or bleeding.

Heat can be Wind-Heat, Qi level Heat, Blood Heat, or Organ Fire.

Treatment Principles:

Clear Heat from Qi and Blood levels.

Drain Heat from affected organs or channels.

Cool the Blood if Heat has moved internally.

Prevent Yin damage by avoiding over-strong sedation if Yin deficiency signs present.

How to Use Drainage Points:

Use LI11 (Quchi) as the primary Heat clearing point for Qi level Heat.

Combine with DU14 (Dazhui) to clear Heat from Yang Ming and Wei levels.

For Heat in the Blood, add SP10 (Xuehai) and PC3 (Qizhi).

For Liver Fire, use LV2 (Xingjian).

Use LI4 (Hegu) to assist in clearing Wind-Heat conditions.

Support Lung Heat clearance with LU10 (Yuji) and Stomach Heat with ST44 (Neiting).

In severe Heat with agitation, calming points like PC8 (Laogong) may be added.

Combine with supportive points like SP6 (Sanyinjiao) to prevent Yin damage.

3. SUMMER HEAT

Clinical Presentation:

Fever with profuse sweating, thirst, irritability, heavy body sensation, scanty urine, loose stools or diarrhea, and fatigue.

Often mixed with Dampness, causing heaviness.

Treatment Principles:

Clear Summer Heat and associated Heat toxicity.

Resolve accompanying Dampness.

Support Qi and fluids to prevent dehydration and exhaustion.

How to Use Drainage Points:

Use LI11 (Quchi) and GV14 (Dazhui) to clear Summer Heat from the exterior and Qi levels.

Add SP9 (Yinlingquan) and BL22 (Sanjiaoshu) to drain Dampness.

Use REN12 (Zhongwan) and BL20 (Pishu) to strengthen middle burner and prevent digestive weakness.

Use ST36 (Zusanli) to tonify Qi and strengthen body resistance.
Combine with PC3 (Quze) and LU7 (Lieque) to regulate Qi and release exterior.
LI4 (Hegu) helps to open the surface and clear Heat.

4. DAMPNESS

Clinical Presentation:

Heaviness and swelling of body or limbs, loose stools or diarrhea, poor appetite, fatigue, a feeling of fullness in the abdomen, turbid urine, and sticky tongue coating.

Dampness can be Cold or Hot (Damp-Heat).

Treatment Principles:

Strengthen Spleen Qi to transform and transport Damp.

Promote movement of fluids.

Clear Damp-Heat if present.

Use acupuncture to move stagnation and open channels.

How to Use Drainage Points:

Use SP9 (Yinlingquan) as primary Dampness resolving point.

Combine with ST28 (Shuidao) and REN9 (Shuifen) to regulate water metabolism and drain Dampness.

Use BL22 (Sanjiaoshu) to aid San Jiao function in fluid metabolism.

Strengthen Spleen with ST36 (Zusanli), SP6 (Sanyinjiao), and BL20 (Pishu).

Use LU7 (Lieque) and LI4 (Hegu) to assist in dispersing external Dampness.

For Damp-Heat, add Heat clearing points such as LI11 (Quchi) and GB34 (Yanglingquan) to clear Liver Qi stagnation associated with Damp.

5. COLD

Clinical Presentation:

Aversion to cold, cold limbs, absence of sweating, body aches, pale tongue with thick white coating, slow pulse.

May be Wind-Cold exterior or internal Cold from Yang deficiency.

Treatment Principles:

Warm the interior and expel Cold.

Tonify Kidney and Spleen Yang.

Promote circulation of Qi and Blood to dispel Cold.

Use GV14 (Dazhui) and LI4 (Hegu) to expel exterior Cold.

Warm Kidney Yang with BL23 (Shenshu), REN4 (Guanyuan), and KD7 (Fuliu).

Strengthen Spleen Yang with ST36 (Zusanli) and BL20 (Pishu) to improve transformation and transportation.

Use LU7 (Lieque) to release exterior Cold.

BL60 (Kunlun) expels Cold from Taiyang channels.

Use SP6 (Sanyinjiao) to nourish Yang and Blood.

Combine tonification and moxa as needed for warming effect.

6. DRYNESS

Clinical Presentation:

Dry skin, dry throat, cough with scanty sputum, dry mouth and nose, constipation, red tongue with little coating.

May be due to Lung Yin deficiency, Stomach Yin deficiency, or Kidney Yin deficiency.

Nourish Yin and Body Fluids.

Moisten dryness internally.

Clear deficient Heat if present.

Avoid excessive clearing or drying points.

Nourish Lung Yin with LU9 (Taiyuan) and BL13 (Feishu).

Nourish Kidney Yin with KD6 (Zhaohai), BL23 (Shenshu), REN4 (Guanyuan).

Nourish Yin and Blood with SP6 (Sanyinjiao) and ST36 (Zusanli).

Open Ren Mai and promote Lung fluids with LU7 (Lieque).

Use KD3 (Taixi) to tonify Kidney Yin.

Use LI4 (Hegu) with caution to promote Qi without drying.

Combine with gentle acupuncture and avoid strong sedation to prevent further Yin damage.

Summary Tips on Combining Drainage Points:

Exterior syndromes (Wind-Cold/Heat): Use points to release the exterior (GB20, LI4, LU7, SJ5) plus pathogen-specific points (LI11 for Heat, BL12 for Wind).

Interior Heat or Damp-Heat: Combine Heat clearing points (LI11, SP10) with Damp resolving points (SP9, BL22).

Dampness without Heat: Focus on strengthening Spleen (ST36, SP6, BL20) and Damp resolving points (SP9, REN9).

Cold patterns: Tonify Yang (BL23, REN4, ST36) and expel Cold (GV14, LI4, BL60).

Dryness: Nourish Yin (KD6, LU9, SP6) and moisten with gentle techniques.

Examples of detailed point prescriptions combining drainage points for common mixed pathogenic patterns. Each includes clinical signs, treatment principles, and acupuncture points with explanations.

Examples of Combined Pattern Point Prescriptions

1. Wind-Cold with Dampness

Clinical Signs:

Aversion to cold, no sweating, body heaviness, stiff neck, joint aches, sticky tongue coating, fatigue, loose stools.

Treatment Principle:

Release the exterior Wind-Cold, expel Dampness, strengthen Spleen to transform Damp.

Acupuncture Points:

GB20 (Fengchi) — expel Wind-Cold at neck.

BL12 (Fengmen) — Wind gate, expel Wind-Cold.

LI4 (Hegu) — release exterior, move Qi.

LU7 (Lieque) — open Ren Mai, release exterior.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — resolve Dampness.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Spleen Qi.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen.

REN9 (Shuifen) — regulate water metabolism.

BL22 (Sanjiaoshu) — promote Damp transformation.

LI11 (Quchi) — mild clearing if slight Heat present.

2. Wind-Heat with Dryness

Clinical Signs:

Fever, sore throat, slight sweating, dry cough, dry mouth and nose, red tongue with thin coating.

Treatment Principle:

Release Wind-Heat, clear Heat, nourish Lung Yin, moisten dryness.

LI4 (Hegu) — release Wind-Heat.

LU7 (Lieque) — open Ren Mai, moisten Lung.

LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat.

SJ5 (Waiguan) — expel Wind-Heat.

LU9 (Taiyuan) — tonify Lung Yin.

KD6 (Zhaohai) — nourish Kidney Yin, support Lung Yin.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Yin and Blood.

BL13 (Feishu) — tonify Lung Yin.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — nourish Yin.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood.

3. Damp-Heat in the Lower Burner

Clinical Signs:

Lower abdominal fullness and pain, burning urination, sticky yellow vaginal discharge, bitter taste, red tongue with sticky yellow coating.

Treatment Principle:

Clear Damp-Heat, drain Dampness, clear Heat, regulate Liver and Spleen.

SP9 (Yinlingquan) — drain Dampness.

LI11 (Quchi) — clear Heat.

BL22 (Sanjiaoshu) — regulate San Jiao, drain Damp.

REN3 (Zhongji) — clear Damp-Heat in Lower Burner.

LV3 (Taichong) — soothe Liver Qi stagnation.

ST28 (Shuidao) — move water and Dampness.

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — nourish Blood, regulate lower abdomen.

BL40 (Weizhong) — clear Heat from Blood.

REN9 (Shuifen) — water metabolism.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Spleen and Qi.

4. Interior Cold with Yang Deficiency

Clinical Signs:

Cold limbs, fatigue, loose stools, pale tongue with moist white coating, deep weak pulse.

Treatment Principle:

Warm and tonify Kidney and Spleen Yang, dispel Cold, strengthen Qi.

Acupuncture Points:

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Yang.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — tonify Kidney Yang and Qi.

ST36 (Zusanli) — strengthen Spleen Yang.

BL20 (Pishu) — strengthen Spleen.

GV4 (Mingmen) — tonify Mingmen Fire (Kidney Yang).

SP6 (Sanyinjiao) — support Yang and Blood.

LI4 (Hegu) — expel exterior Cold.

GV14 (Dazhui) — expel Cold and Wind.

BL60 (Kunlun) — expel Cold from Taiyang channels.

KD7 (Fuliu) — regulate sweating, support Yang.

5. Lung Yin Deficiency with Dryness

Clinical Signs:

Dry cough with scanty sputum, dry throat, night sweats, five-center heat sensation, red tongue with little coating.

Treatment Principle:

Nourish Lung and Kidney Yin, moisten dryness, stop cough.

LU9 (Taiyuan) — tonify Lung Yin.

KD6 (Zhaozhai) — nourish Kidney Yin, support Lung Yin.

BL13 (Feishu) — tonify Lung Yin.

REN4 (Guanyuan) — nourish Yin.

KD3 (Taixi) — nourish Kidney Yin.

LU7 (Lieque) — open Ren Mai and moisten Lung.

ST36 (Zusanli) — tonify Qi and Blood to support Yin.

LI4 (Hegu) — promote Lung Qi movement carefully.

BL23 (Shenshu) — tonify Kidney Yin and essence.

General Notes on Using Drainage Points in Combined Patterns

Always identify predominant pathogenic factor and organ involved before selecting points.

Use local points for affected area combined with distal points for systemic regulation.

Combine expelling points (like GB20 for Wind, LI11 for Heat) with tonification points (ST36, SP6) to strengthen the body's resistance.

In chronic or deficiency states, tonification and nourishing points become more important.

Use Tung points or Ashi points as adjuncts for local pain or stagnation.

For acute conditions, stronger drainage and dispersing points may be used; for chronic, gentler stimulation is preferred.
